

Call For Papers: “Insurance and Social Justice: Challenges and Opportunities”

The AALS Insurance Law Section is hosting a panel discussion about social justice issues in insurance law at the 2023 annual meeting in January. Our intention is that “social justice” be defined broadly, and speakers could explore any aspect of insurance that implicates social justice, including but not limited to social justice problems in insurance itself and the role of insurance in addressing social justice problems more broadly.

Please submit abstracts to alexander.lemann@marquette.edu by September 1, 2022.