Welcome to the 110th Annual Meeting of the Association of American Law Schools

It is our great pleasure to invite you to join us in New York City at the 2016 Annual Meeting of the Association of American Law Schools on January 6-10, 2016, our 110th Annual Meeting. We have organized a vibrant schedule of programs, events, and cultural opportunities, combined with substantial hotel discounts and benefits, that make this year's meeting particularly exciting.

This year's theme, selected by AALS President Blake D. Morant, Dean, The George Washington University School of Law, is "From Challenge to Innovation: Legal Education in 2016." As President Morant has stated, this year's meeting will provide "an unparalleled opportunity for legal educators and administrators to connect with colleagues from law schools around the nation, as well as the world, on matters of common interest at this crucial moment for legal education as well as the legal profession."

We think you will find many programs worth attending at the 2016 Annual Meeting. On Wednesday, January 6, at 5:30 p.m., the meeting will begin with our first-ever primer for first-time attendees that will provide a roadmap for how to make the most out of the Annual Meeting. On Thursday, January 7, we will begin the day with an opening plenary program (replacing the former AALS luncheon) that will allow attendees to hear the plenary speakers without having to incur the expense of a hotel lunch. At noon on Thursday, we are honored to present a moderated discussion with Justice Stephen Breyer. On Thursday at 5 pm, we will hold an opening reception in the Hilton, where you can enjoy drinks and light appetizers while mixing and mingling with other leaders of the legal academy and the profession. At this year's meeting, we will be adding innovative programs never before held at the Annual Meeting, including "Arc of Your Career" programs specifically designed for professors at various stages of their careers. Small discussion groups will provide faculty with the opportunity to engage in an in-depth exploration of many varied topics of interest.

We are very pleased to announce hotel guest room rates below $200 a night at the two co-headquarter hotels, the New York Hilton and the Sheraton New York. In addition, both hotels will provide complimentary Wi-Fi in guest rooms, free access to their health clubs, and a 20 percent discount on food (including room service at the Sheraton). With these substantial discounts and benefits, we hope that you will be able to attend and to take advantage of the tremendous professional development and networking opportunities offered during the three and a half day meeting. We are also offering a 50 percent registration fee discount as a special incentive for new and emeritus/retired law faculty to join us this year.

I hope to see you in New York City this January!

Sincerely,

Judy Areen
Executive Director

From Challenge to Innovation: American Legal Education in 2016

AALS President Blake D. Morant,
Dean, The George Washington University School of Law

The present state of American legal education raises pivotal questions: What is the relevance of legal education in a complex and global market? Has its value diminished in light of the significant investment required to pursue a law degree? Perhaps more seminal, is American legal education able to equip students with the tools needed to succeed in a global marketplace?

Despite questions of value, the need for quality legal education has never been more acute. The global market needs professionals who can think critically and provide innovative solutions to complex problems. American legal education has long addressed this need.

The current challenging times for legal education have prompted us to think more creatively about pedagogy and curriculum. The academy's continued evolution has led to more dynamic programs that produce adroit professionals who can better function in a complex, more diverse market. Many of the new programs that have emerged during these challenging times explore the intersection of classroom doctrine and real-world problems. Other innovations seek to add value and manage costs. The array of new programs underway continues to expand. At the same time, law schools continue their vital roles both as innovators and as critics of law through the scholarship that their faculty members produce.

Challenge has truly prompted innovation. Law schools and faculties should work to foster the dynamism that comes from the academy's continual evolution. Although the challenges confronting law schools are significant, the resolve to meet them has never been stronger.

HIGHLIGHTS AND NEW PROGRAMMING

This year's meeting, the 110th Annual Meeting of the Association, is packed with programs to appeal to law school deans, faculty, and administrators. We think you will find many programs worth attending. Our schedule includes new programming options such as the First Time Meeting Attendees Session, Arc of the Career Programs, Academy Programs, and Discussion Groups. In addition, we have scheduled an Opening Plenary Session and an Opening Reception on the first full day of the meeting. We have highlighted some of these new program options for you below.

On Wednesday, January 6, at 5:30 pm, the meeting will begin with our first-ever primer for first-time attendees: “What is AALS, and Why Does It Matter for My Career? And How Do I Get the Most out of the Annual Meeting?” This session will provide a roadmap on how to make the most out of the Annual Meeting.

On Thursday, January 7, we will begin the day with an Opening Plenary Program that replaces the former AALS Luncheon. The opening plenary includes two of the three authors of the joint essay Lawyers as Professionals and Citizens: Key Roles and Responsibilities in the 21st Century with speakers Benjamin W. Heineman, Jr., Former Senior Vice President for Law and Public Affairs, General Electric and David B. Wilkins, Harvard Law School. Their essay presents a practical vision of the responsibilities of today's lawyers as both professionals and as citizens.

On Thursday, January 7, at 5 pm, conclude your day at the AALS Opening Reception, where you can enjoy drinks and light appetizers while mixing and mingling with your colleagues from law schools across the country. The reception will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the New York Hilton, which is also the AALS Exhibit Hall. We hope attendees will also enjoy visiting the exhibiting companies during the reception to learn about new products and services available to the law school community.

Arc of The Career Programs have been specifically designed for faculty at various stages of their law school careers—pre-tenure to early tenured career, reinvention at mid-career, retirement and other transitions, and are scheduled throughout the meeting. There is something for everyone, come listen and learn about the following:

- Using Rounds About Teaching to Provide Peer Support and Learning Over the Course of a Career: Continuing Education for Teachers Who Educate Lawyers
- Scholarly Engagement Post-Tenure
- Impossible Realities, Infinite Loops and Movable Staircases: The Impact of Institutional Marginalization on the Tricky, Unpredictable, and Inconsistent Trajectory of the Non-Tenured Track Career
- So You Want to Publish a Book?
- The AALS In Spite of Itself: How to Use the AALS for Professional Development Even If It Sometimes Makes You Mad
- Joining the Administration: Law School and University Leadership for Law School Professors.

Discussion Groups are another new program format which has been introduced this year to facilitate scholarly discussion and engagement. They will provide a small group of faculty an opportunity to engage in a sustained conversation about a topic of interest. The Discussion Group sessions do not feature formal presentations. The objective is to facilitate a lively and engaging real-time discussion among participants. Discussion Group topics include:

- Ethics and Practice of Community Engagement
- Introducing Professional Identity Development into the Law School Curriculum
- Increasing Author Diversity in Legal Scholarship: Individual and Institutional Strategies
- Fostering Entrepreneurial Lawyering in Curricular Design.

Building a Better AALS: A Conversation with the AALS Executive Committee is a unique opportunity to share your suggestions directly with members of the AALS Executive Committee. Do you have an opinion on what AALS could be doing better? On what it's doing right? On Saturday, January 9 from 8:30 am - 10:15 am we have scheduled three concurrent sessions, with three Executive Committee members in attendance at each. Each session will be limited in size to the first twenty attendees who sign up in advance.

Speakers of Note for 2016 We have an excellent mix of speakers at the Annual Meeting this year. At noon on Thursday, we are honored to have Justice Stephen Breyer take the stage for a moderated conversation organized by AALS President Blake Morant. Benjamin Heineman and David Wilkins will present thoughts from their essay Lawyers as Professionals and Citizens: Key Roles and Responsibilities in the 21st Century at the Opening Plenary Session on Thursday. ABA President Paulette Brown will speak on Professionalism and the Future of Our Profession on Friday afternoon. Our AALS sections have many interesting law school and non-law school speakers scheduled throughout the meeting. We hope to announce even more guest speakers in the coming months.

ANNUAL MEETING SCHEDULE

As of August 3, 2015

Visit aals.org/am2016 for the most up-to-date information on the Annual Meeting.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6

2 pm – 8 pm

AALS Registration

2 pm – 8 pm

AALS Exhibit Hall - “The Meeting Place”

The AALS Exhibit Hall gives attendees the opportunity to learn about new products, services, and technologies available to the legal community. The Exhibit Hall also serves as a “Meeting Place” for attendees to interact and exchange ideas, and includes a lounge area with coffee, tea, pastries, or cookies served in the mornings and afternoons. In addition, exhibitors will also have an exclusive hour on Friday, January 8 from 3:30 pm to 4:30 pm.

5:30 pm – 6:30 pm

[3080] New: A Session for First-Time Meeting Attendees – What is AALS, and Why Does It Matter for My Career? And How Do I Get the Most out of the Annual Meeting?

This session is intended for new law professors and administrators, especially for those who have never attended an AALS Annual Meeting. After a quick introduction to the organization, members at various stages of their careers will briefly discuss their experiences with AALS. There will also be a candid discussion of why people attend the Annual Meeting and what they hope to get out of it. New members will have the opportunity to sign up for AALS sections. Members of the AALS leadership structure will be in attendance, and there will be time to have a dialogue with them about their AALS experiences.

7:30 pm

[3090] AALS Law and Film Series

The Feature Film Selection: Reversal of Fortune

The Law and Film Series presents films chosen for their cinematic and legal value, identifying film resources for possible classroom instructional purposes, as well as for raising general awareness of law and film. For each of the two nights of film showings, we will present films chosen by the AALS Annual Meeting Film Advisory Committee. There will be brief discussions and commentary in connection with the films.

Reversal of Fortune is a 1990 film adapted from the 1985 book Reversal of Fortune: Inside the von Bülow Case, written by law professor Alan Dershowitz. The film recounts the true story of Claus von Bülow, charged with the attempted murder of his wife, socialite Sunny von Bülow who is in a coma after falling into diabetic shock. He turns to Professor Dershowitz for help with his case. Although initially hesitant to take the case and struggling with questions of von Bülow’s guilt or innocence, Professor Dershowitz ultimately does so, seeking legal exoneration for his client with the help of his law students. The film stars Jeremy Irons, Glenn Close, and Ron Silver.

[4060] Service Project of Poverty Law and Pro-Bono & Public Service Opportunities

This service project is an opportunity to participate in community service with your colleagues.

The project will be held at In God’s Love We Deliver. The mission of In God’s Love We Deliver is to improve the health and well-being of men, women, and children living with HIV/AIDS, cancer, and other serious illnesses by alleviating hunger and malnutrition. The organization, which has no religious affiliation, prepares and delivers nutritious, high-quality meals to people who, because of their illness, are unable to provide or prepare meals for themselves. It also provides illness-specific nutrition education and counseling to their clients, families, care providers and other service organizations.

Participants will volunteer in the kitchen preparing meals. Participants must wear clothing that completely covers shoulders, underarms, knees, and toes. No bracelets, watches, or long earrings can be worn.

9 am – 10 am

[4070] New: AALS Opening Plenary Program – Lawyers as Professionals and as Citizens

Speakers:

Benjamin W. Heineman, Jr., Former Senior Vice President for Law and Public Affairs, General Electric
David B. Wilkins, Harvard Law School

In this time of dramatic change for both the legal profession and society, the need for an ethical vision of lawyering is all the more challenging and urgent. Law schools have a crucial role to play not only in preparing students to become effective expert technicians, wise counselors, and effective leaders, but also in generating knowledge about law and legal institutions and the relationship between these institutions and societal welfare. The authors’ article encourages deans and faculty to recognize the important role that law schools play as part of the legal profession and to reexamine their own obligations to the legal framework and society, to the law school as an institution, and to students.

The opening plenary includes two of the three authors of the joint essay Lawyers as Professionals and Citizens: Key Roles and Responsibilities in the 21st Century. Their essay presents a practical vision of the responsibilities of lawyers as both professionals and as citizens at the beginning of the 21st century. The complete essay can be found at https://clp.law.harvard.edu/assets/Professionalism-Project-Essay_11.20.14.pdf.

[6080] AALS Scholarly Paper Presentation

To encourage and recognize excellent legal scholarship and to broaden participation by new law teachers in the Annual Meeting program, the Association sponsored a call for papers for the 30th annual AALS Scholarly Papers Competition. Those who would have been full-time law teachers at an AALS member or fee-paid school for five years or less on July 1, 2015, were invited to submit a paper on a topic related to or concerning law. A committee of established scholars reviewed the submitted papers with the authors' identities concealed. The authors of the winning papers will present and discuss their papers at this session.

GENERAL MEETING INFORMATION

Accessibility-Related Accommodation

AALS is committed to making our meetings and events accessible to all of our attendees. Visit aals.org/am2016 and click on “Accessibility” for more information. Please contact the AALS at accommodations@aals.org so that we may assist you with services that you need.

Child Care

AALS does not provide child care services onsite at the conference. Please consult with the hotel concierge for more information.

Continuing Legal Education Credit

AALS has not received certification as a CLE provider for the 2016 Annual Meeting. For registered attendees in states whose acknowledgment of attendance at a session is sufficient, AALS provides sign-up sheets in the rear of the meeting room of each session. Please sign this sheet if you need verification that you attended this session.

Local Attractions

New York City’s tremendous energy, excitement and diversity set it apart from all other destinations on the planet – and that’s no overstatement. For more information on attractions, Broadway tickets, restaurants, sightseeing, shopping, television show tapings, sporting events along with social media and mobile apps for visitors, please visit www.aals.org/am2016/.

Mobile App

For the second year in a row, AALS will offer a mobile app for the Annual Meeting. This app will allow you to easily view schedules, maps, exhibitor lists, and social features on your phone or tablet. You will also be able to create your own schedule of sessions you are interested in attending. The mobile app will contain the most current information, including all of the late changes not included in the printed program.

Program Updates

For up-to-date information about the meeting, program schedule, and speakers, please visit the AALS website at www.aals.org/am2016.

Social Media

We hope you will follow AALS on Twitter, Facebook, and LinkedIn. Please tweet about the conference using the hashtag #AALS2016.

Transportation

For those traveling by air, New York City is served by seven area airports. Of these, three airports are major hubs: John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK) and LaGuardia Airport (LGA) are both in Queens, while Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR) is located in neighboring New Jersey. These three airports provide access to the city via taxis, buses, vans, subways, trains, and private limo car services. For details on transportation visit www.aals.org/am2016/.

Weather

New York City weather can vary from day to day, and even morning to afternoon. The winter months of December through February are cold with less daylight, though the sky is often sunny, blue and clear.

HOTEL INFORMATION

The AALS 2016 Annual Meeting will be held in New York City at co-headquarter hotels, the New York Hilton Midtown and the Sheraton New York Times Square Hotel, located across 53rd Street from one another. Both co-headquarter hotels will host AALS programs and meals as well as law school and other organization events. Guest rooms are also available at the Marriott Marquis and Renaissance Times Square; both are located in Times Square.

After completing the meeting registration process, you will receive a confirmation email from AALS containing a link for booking a hotel reservation online. Single and double occupancy rooms and suites are available.

RESERVATIONS

After completing the meeting registration process, you will receive a confirmation email from AALS containing a link for booking a hotel reservation online. Single and double occupancy rooms and suites are available.

AALS convention hotels will only accept reservations made through our selected housing service, Experient (this is not AALS headquarters.) Reservations will be accepted only through online booking. If you do not receive your hotel booking email, please contact AALS Registration at (202) 296-2355 or email registration@aals.org. If you received your hotel booking email but have difficulty booking your reservation online, contact aals@experient-inc.com.

Confirmation of Reservation

The housing service will email a reservation confirmation within 72 hours of processing your reservation.

Deadline

Hotel reservations should be made by December 17, 2015. If you have not made your reservation by December 17, please visit the website www.aals.org/am2016/ for instructions about hotel availability and how to reserve a sleeping room. Reservations will be turned over to the hotels on December 18, so the last day to process new reservations, changes and cancellations is December 17.

Arrival and Departure

Please provide your arrival and departure information when making your reservation. Rooms are available as early as January 1, 2016 and as late as January 11, 2016. However, only a few rooms are available at the AALS discounted room rate at either end of this period.

Occupants in Room

If sharing rooms, please designate one person to make the reservation. List all occupants including children and their ages. Children under the age of 18 may stay free of charge in parent's room. There is an additional charge of $20 per person for more than two people sharing a room for people over the age of 18. You will need to notify the hotel at check in if any of the guests in your room are under the age of 18 and exempt from the extra person charge.

Accessibility Accommodations

If anyone in the room needs an access-related accommodation, please indicate the accommodations needed when making your hotel reservation.

Credit Card Guarantee

A valid credit card with an expiration date of January 2016 or later is required to secure your room reservation. Credit cards will not be processed prior to your arrival. Your credit card will be charged one night's stay plus tax if you fail to cancel before 6:00 pm on the day of arrival or if you fail to check in on your scheduled arrival date.

Reserving a Suite

The booking website will include brief descriptions of suites available at each hotel.

Modifications and Cancellations

Reservations may be modified or cancelled after receiving your confirmation email. Until 5 p.m. CST December 17, please make changes and cancellations online using the booking link, or by email or fax provided in the confirmation email. Cancellations will not be accepted by phone.

Beware Housing "Pirates" and "Poachers"

For hotel room reservation modifications or cancellations after December 17, please wait until December 22 and contact the hotel directly.

When AALS secures sleeping rooms at hotels for our Annual Meeting (commonly referred to as room blocks), we research the properties to make certain that our attendees will be adequately accommodated. The room block is established to ensure that sleeping rooms meet our standards and are offered at the discounted price.

We have been informed in the past that registrants are being contacted by fax, emails, and phone calls with offers for cut-rate housing. The intent is to convince you that the offer is made on behalf of AALS, or that the soliciting company is a viable alternative to going through our service provider. This is not true. Housing for the AALS Annual Meeting is handled exclusively by our selected housing service, Experient, through online booking only.

How can you help? Don't be misled! If you are contacted by anyone asking if you need a room for the Annual Meeting, please do not make a reservation or provide a method of payment. We ask that you get as much information as you can about the caller and pass it on Mary Cullen, AALS Meeting Manager, at (202) 296-8851 or mcullen@aals.org.

Registration

2016 AALS Annual Meeting

Annual Meeting Registration

Each faculty or staff member should complete a separate registration form and meeting registration fee. The registration fee includes admission to all AALS programs, except those paid events listed below. Speakers and attendees who attend any sessions at the Annual Meeting are required to pay the registration fee. Visit our homepage for more information about the Annual Meeting.

Online Registration

You may register online using our secure system. We accept American Express, Visa, and MasterCard as payment for registration fees and ticketed events.

Registration Form

This form can be returned to AALS by fax or regular mail, and payment methods include check (made out to: Association of American Law Schools), American Express, MasterCard, or Visa. Fax to (202) 872-1829 or mail to 1614 20th Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20009. Please note that, to comply with Payment Card Industry Association standards, we no longer accept registration submissions through email.

Institutional Advancement Professionals

This registration is limited to law school professional staff attending the Section on Institutional Advancement program, and no other Annual Meeting programs or events. To register for this program only please use the Institutional Advancement registration form, or register online.

Spouse/Significant Other

A spouse or significant other is welcome to attend AALS programs at no additional fee, as long as they 1) are not law school faculty/staff/retired members or law school students and, 2) are properly registered through AALS for the conference. Some programs with additional fees are open to spouses and significant others with the purchase of an additional ticket, while others are limited to law school faculty and staff.

Registration Confirmation and Hotel Reservation Process

After registering you will receive a registration confirmation and a hotel reservation email. The hotel reservation email will include housing information and instructions, including a link to book reservations online. Registration forms are processed when payment is received, and hotel registration information cannot be released before registration has been completed. For general information on the conference co-hotels please visit the Annual Meeting Housing webpage.

Access-Related Accommodations

For information on access-related accommodations please visit the Annual Meeting Accessibility webpage. Contact the AALS at accommodations@aals.org no later than December 6, 2015 so we may assist with services you need.

Cancellation Policy

All fees will be refunded less a $25 processing fee for written cancellations received by December 15, 2015, at registration@aals.org. Refunds will not be given for cancellations received after December 15.

Ticketed Events

Ticketed events are limited to 1 ticket per registrant, with the option to purchase a second if a spouse or significant other is also attending. However, Section Field Trips have a limit of only 1 ticket per registrant. An additional ticket for a spouse or significant other may be available for purchase onsite at the registration desk, depending on availability.

Section Meal Events

Space for meals is limited and so it is a good idea to purchase your tickets as far in advance as possible. Tickets will be for sale on-site until the close of business the day before each meal is scheduled to be held, subject to availability. To remain compliant with Payment Card Industry Association standards no tickets will be sold at the door of ticketed events.
